	Box 5	Subseries 1. Revenue and expenditures, 1932-35, 1937-56, 1958-59, 1961-63, 1969-70. (The usual sources of income are various dues and donations received from the members, including annual and monthly dues, subscription fees, special donations and advertisement payments. Some of the usual expenses include transportation, printing, communication, reception, and repair costs, income taxes, utilities, wages, office supplies, and insurance dues. In the following list are indicated the sources of income and distribution other than the usual ones listed above. Although some ledgers include items for both income and distribution, many others have information only on income or distribution. Because of this and also because of the fact that some records have information on more than one committee, some years are repeated in more than one record.)
